News: Chiefs of Indian, French Air Forces join ongoing Garuda VII air exercise

- The chiefs of Indian and French Air Forces recently joined the Air Exercise Garuda VII in Jodhpur.

Air Exercise Garuda

- Exercise Garuda is the bilateral exercise conducted between India and France alternatively in each country.
- Exercise Garuda VII is the first occasion for the light combat aircraft (LCA) Tejas and the light combat helicopter (LCH) Prachand to participate in any international exercise.
- Air Exercise Garuda provides a unique opportunity for both Air Forces to learn and imbibe each other's best practices during operations while also highlighted the growing interoperability between the two Air Forces.
